Machik Weekend officially kicks off with the Tibet Engagement Fair on Friday evening. This is an opportunity to learn about and network with different projects and groups working for Tibet. Based on your enthusiastic feedback from last year's Machik Weekend, we're excited to present this platform once again. From peer mentoring and digital language learning to promoting health awareness, this year's Engagement Fair features a wide range of groups with creative ideas.

We hope the groups featured at the Tibet Engagement Fair will encourage you to join in their efforts or inspire you to start your own project.

The poster features a dark background with a light-colored grid pattern. At the top right is a stylized globe icon with a grid and orange stars. At the bottom, there are four small rectangular photos of performers: a woman playing a violin, a man in a blue patterned shirt, a woman in a green patterned shawl, and a man playing a violin.
